

“Abstracting the Landscape” Painting Workshop

Work in the media of your choice: Pastels, Oil, Watercolor
October 15-17, 2010

Ann Templeton - Instructor

Ann Templeton is a nationally known conceptual impressionist working in oil and pastels, and likes to describe her paintings as “symbolic expressions.” She holds art seminars nationally and internationally, lectures and teaches at art guilds and colleges, and juries competitive art shows. Ann’s style and enthusiasm has won her many awards throughout the United States and abroad. She is highly recognized for her teaching expertise and color usage.

Ann has written two books, “Color and Beyond” and “The Art of Ann Templeton: A Step Beyond.” She has two new DVD’s, “Abstracting the Landscape in Pastel” and “Abstracting the Landscape in Oil.” Ann has also authored four other DVDs and has been juried into numerous shows and galleries in Europe and across the USA. To view her work, check her teaching schedule, or learn more about her credentials, please go to her website at: www.anntempleton.com.
